

DOES NOT WANT THE NOMINATION

Judge Gray Declares Himself to Senator Butler.

HE DISLIKES ITS TRIALS

Delaware Jurist Has No Desire to Take Part in the Coming Contest.
Against Mr. Hearst.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Judge George Gray, of Delaware, deemed by many Democratic admirers the most available candidate for President of the United States, has informed intimate friends that he does not wish the nomination, and has insisted that they must not work for him. Despite his absolute silence, many persons have believed that he was willing to take the nomination, and that there was a strong probability he was the dark horse that would draw to the front at the St. Louis convention.

One of his most enthusiastic friends is former United States Senator M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

Ideal Nominee.
"Judge Gray would be an ideal nominee," said Mr. Butler, in the Waldorf-Astoria. "I served twelve years in the United States Senate with him, and I know him to be one of the ablest men in public life in this country. He is a man of affairs, he is conservative, and he is a splendid lawyer. I had a long talk with him recently, and in the course of the conversation he said:

"Butler, you know me well enough to believe what I am going to tell you. I do not want that office—the Presidency. I have a most congenial life position, the members of my family are well provided for, and I have seen and I know too much of the trials and troubles that fall to the lot of the President of the United States to want the office."

Against Mr. Hearst.
"I know that Judge Gray was sincere when he said this," continued Mr. Butler. "My personal choice for the Presidency would be either Judge Gray or Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland. I deem Senator Gorman one of the most accomplished men in public life, and I have known him for many years."

"If South Carolina has not to that point where it will send to the St. Louis convention a delegation instructed for Hearst, my opinion is that the State should have a political guardian absolutely impossible for me to conceive of the State being guilty of such political impropriety. This is a plain statement of fact, and it is not due to personal animosity toward Mr. Hearst, for I do not know him; but I cannot conceive for a moment that any Southern State will instruct their delegates to vote for such a man for the Presidential nomination."

MR. POWDERLY WRITES ON NEEDS OF PETWORTH

Enters Plea for Better Railroad Facilities and Suggests Extension of Eleventh Street Line.

The need of additional street car facilities for the citizens of Petworth was called to the attention of the District Commissioners today by a letter from T. V. Powderly, president of the Petworth Citizens' Association, supplementing the request made by the association in a public hearing before the Commissioners last Wednesday that steps be taken to compel the extension of the Eleventh Street car line along Lydecker Street and New Hampshire Avenue, thence to Richmond Street.

The communication explains that what the Petworth and Brightwood people want is a "strictly urban service from the interior of the city to Richmond Street." If the extension of the Eleventh Street lines cannot be obtained they will be satisfied with "continuous urban service by means of the Ninth Street line out of Brightwood Avenue."

What Is Needed.
It is pointed out that the petitioners want "remedial legislation," and desire not to be obliged "to trust to promises on the part of the railroad companies, which may never be fulfilled." Mr. Powderly says additional cars on the Brightwood line "will in no wise meet the requirements."

In concluding the letter says: "It is essential, not only to the convenience, but also to the health and welfare, of the citizens of Petworth that a continuous car service should be established."

PROBABLY FATALLY HURT BY PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN

Knocked down by train No. 67, while walking along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad near Delaware Avenue and F Streets, Andrew Brown, sixty-three years old, was probably fatally injured yesterday. In getting out of the way of one train he stepped in the way of another. At the Emergency Hospital the physicians said his collar bone and several of his ribs were broken. It is believed the end of one of his broken ribs penetrated his lungs.

Gorman a Supporter Of Judge Parker

Senator Defines His Position at Last, and Says
He Never Was a Candidate in Reality.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 28.—H. C. Canis, manager of the "Chronicle," is in receipt of a letter from United States Senator Bacon, declaring himself in favor of the nomination of Judge Parker for President, and saying that Georgia should send a Parker delegation to St. Louis.

Senator Bacon further says that he had an interview with Senator Gorman on Saturday before sending this letter, and that Senator Gorman has never in any sense been a candidate, but agrees with Senator Bacon that the conservative element in Georgia should unite in the support of Judge Parker. He says Senator Gorman feels this is necessary to the success of the party in the next campaign. Senator Bacon adds: "I will heartily co-operate in any effort to secure a delegation from Georgia which will support Judge Parker in the national convention."

Another letter received today from Senator Clay, says: "It now looks like we will swipe the Hearst people off the face of the earth."

BROTHER AND SISTER CRAZED BY NARCOTICS

Went to Police Headquarters to Find Protection From
"Electricity Throwers" and Dispensers of Foul Air.

Laboring under the delusion that they were being persecuted by unknown persons who threw pepper, foul air, and electricity at them, Harrison T. Smith, thirty-five years old, and his sister Helen, forty-two years old, walked into Police Headquarters last night and asked Captain Boardman for police protection. They said electricity was oozing from every pore of their skin and dropping from their finger tips, because people threw it into them.

"They're also throwing foul air at us, and it makes our flesh crawl and itch," explained the man. Captain Boardman thought they were worthy of an investigation and sent them to the House of Detention last night. While there they became violent, rattled the doors and pleaded to be let out lest they should be killed by foul air and electricity. The attendants at the institution became alarmed and, after communicating with Sergeant Helan at Police Headquarters, removed the brother and sister to No. 1 police station, where they were locked up in a witness room.

This morning Drs. Marbury and Burch, police surgeons, went to the station to examine the pair to ascertain their mental condition. They agreed that both persons were of unsound mind and sent them to St. Elizabeth's Asylum for the Insane this afternoon. Harrison said: "It's all right if the people there won't throw pepper and other stuffs at us, but if they do, oh, my God, how I dread going there."

While Dr. Burch was at the first precinct the man became violent and then quiet by spells. He begged the physician to give him his hypodermic syringe and bottle of morphine, that he might forget about those who were pursuing and trying to kill him with electric currents. Captain Boardman, when he had the brother and sister removed to the House of Detention, took from them a small handbag in which they had several bottles and vials containing morphine and a silver syringe and other things, constituting what the police term a "dope layout." Dr. Burch did not believe it would do the man any harm to have his morphine, and a detective was dispatched from Police Headquarters to the station with the "layout." It was handed to Smith, and with his eyes dancing he took a small pill from a bottle, asked that his syringe be filled with water, and then loaded the instrument. Rolling up his sleeve before the doctor, he injected the concoction into his arm and then handed the instrument to his sister, who went through the same operation, after which they became quiet and were calm and collected when Dr. Marbury called to examine them.

The physicians, after their examination, said that Harrison and his sister had become insane from the excessive use of narcotics of several kinds. It is believed they have been addicted to the use of opium for some years and later shifted off to morphine.

Captain Frank, sanitary officer of the Police Department, made an investigation of the case also. He ascertained that the two Smiths formerly lived in Vermont. For the past three years they have been vacillating between Washington and their home, leaving because of persecution on the part of "electricity throwers."

NEW MONTGOMERY SCHOOL DEDICATED

Simple Ceremonies at the Building Today.

MR. MACFARLAND'S ADDRESS

Value of Education and Facilities
Therefor Among Topics Discussed
by Other Speakers.

Dedicatory ceremonies were held this morning at 11 o'clock at the Montgomery School, Twenty-seventh Street, between I and K northwest. Commissioner Macfarland, A. T. Stuart, Superintendent of Public Schools, and other officials participated in the exercises which included choruses by the pupils and the formal presentation of the keys to the principal.

The exercises were held in the concert room of the school, and many visitors attended the ceremonies. Among the musical numbers were "Come Thou Almighty King," "A Vow," "Vesper Hymn," "America," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," which closed the program.

Invocation was offered by the Rev. F. J. Grimké. Mr. Stuart and Dr. J. A. Johnson made appropriate addresses on the value of education and buildings and facilities necessary thereto.

Macfarland's Address.
In his address Commissioner Macfarland said:

"Twenty-one public school buildings, including the two manual training schools, the best of their kind, and accommodating thousands of pupils, have been opened in the District of Columbia since I became one of its Commissioners. These buildings are a credit to the National Capital."

"Most of the twenty-one school buildings opened in the past few years have been named, according to custom, for public men, chiefly those who served the District of Columbia in executive place. But from time to time we very properly name a building for some departed man or woman who served the District with distinction as a teacher."

"Henry Percival Montgomery, for whom this building is named, served the District as a teacher, after fine preparations in Vermont, from 1875 until he died in April, 1888, as a supervising principal, interested and active in every kind of educational work for his race. We are glad to honor his memory, and we are glad to let his example for the children who will come into this school so long as its walls shall last."

Fearful Slaughter In Santo Domingo

Hundreds Killed and Thousands Wounded.
Quarter Refused by Morales, Who Shoots
Prisoners—Mutiny and Murder.

SAN JUAN, P. R., March 28.—Official dispatches received from the seat of war by Senator Eugenio Medina, Dominican consul general in San Juan, and letters received by private citizens in this city give accounts of recent fierce encounters between the revolutionists and the troops of President Carlos Morales.

With few exceptions, the latter have been victorious, and Gen. Juan Isidro Jimenez, without arms, provisions, or money, is now shut up in the town of Monte Cristi, which is slenderly garrisoned and expected to surrender at any moment.

Government troops captured on March 8, at Navarrete, near Santiago de los Caballeros, a party of revolutionary skirmishers composed of eight Dominicans and five Porto Ricans, and they were at once shot.

In San Pedro de Macoris trouble started between two revolutionists on March 8. The origin of the trouble is not known, but the fight spread and the soldiers seized their arms in open mutiny. Word was sent to Col. Enrique Ponce de Leon, commander, who hastened to the scene and was quickly shot dead by the soldiers.

The riot was soon quelled and the ringleaders of the mutiny were at once shot. Col. Ponce de Leon was buried with the military honors due to his rank. His death proved fatal to the revolutionists, for they were completely routed by the government troops a few days later, and San Pedro de Macoris captured. Two hundred were killed and many were wounded.

Porto Ricans.
On March 13, an expedition which left Mayaguez, Porto Rico, on March 11, under Gen. Ricardo Martinez, bearing arms and munitions for the insurgents in San Pedro de Macoris, narrowly escaped capture. They arrived after the surrender of the town, abandoned arms and ammunition, and returned to Mayaguez on the French steamer which they boarded at sea.

A large number of Porto Rican adventurers captured by President Morales in various engagements have been returned here by the Dominican President, instead of being shot. One reason given by a Dominican for this lenient treatment is that "they are such poor fighters."

FUNERAL OF H. L. WILSON HELD THIS MORNING

The funeral of Harry Louis Wilson, chief day operator in the Washington office of the Associated Press, was held at 9 o'clock this morning from the family residence, 86 Seventh Street north-east. The services were conducted by the Rev. Arthur H. Thompson, pastor of the Wilson Memorial Independent Methodist Episcopal Church, and interment was at Glenwood.

The pallbearers were E. C. Hensley and Fred Hahnel, of the White House force, representing the Washington local of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America; James J. Mooney, S. M. Van Valkenberg, and Ernest W. Emery, of the Associated Press, and Frank M. Britton.

MACEDONIA WILL WAIT FOR REFORM

Saraffoff Says Rebellion Will Be Delayed.

SMALL HOPE OF BETTERMENT

Declares if Turkey Begins War His People Will Try to Liberate Country.

SOFIA, March 28.—M. Boris Saraffoff, the Macedonian leader, today said that the Macedonian insurgents had decided not to raise a rebellion this spring. They would delay the uprising, he said, in order to give the powers time to carry out their proposed reforms, and also to prove to the world that the Macedonians were willing to allow such reforms to be instituted. Saraffoff expressed a conviction, however, that the powers would soon be convinced that Turkey would not tolerate any reforms, as the Turkish people are fanatics who will never tolerate a glimmer of an equal. If war between Bulgaria and Turkey should break out, Saraffoff added, then the Macedonian insurgents would do their best to liberate their country.
